14TH ANNUAL MEETING

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA, USA

MARCH 12-15, 2008

SPONSORSHIP & EXHIBIT OPPORTUNITIES

SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

The International Society for Clinical Densitometry (ISCD) is pleased to announce the 14TH ANNUAL MEETING – Global Assessment of Skeletal Health – March 12-15, 2008, in San Francisco, California. Reach hundreds of your key buyers with purchasing power by sponsoring ISCD's 2008 Annual Meeting.

Why Participate?

You can't afford not to! ISCD's clinicians, technologists, scientists and other healthcare providers represent a very educated, affluent market that delivers and influences healthcare, research and higher education. ISCD is the largest gathering of thought leaders in the field of bone densitometry across the country and throughout the world. They are involved in increasing levels of influence of all areas of bone densitometry. By becoming a sponsor at any level, you will get your name and message in front of the high-level decision makers who buy the products and services that you deliver.

When deciding your appropriate level of sponsorship, please keep in mind the following member demographics:

- 22% Rheumatology
- 17% Internal Medicine
- 15% Obstetrics/Gynecology
- 12% Endocrinology
- 11% Radiology
- 11% Family Practice
- Representing 57 countries

ISCD website statistics

- In 2006 there were more than 210,000 visitors to the site, up 56% over 2005.
- The site's home, upcoming courses and annual meeting pages were most visited.
- Some 45% of visitors came to the site directly by typing ISCD into their browser or having ISCD on their "favorites" list.
- Most visitors spent 3-10 minutes on the site.

Top of Mind

The top-of-mind focus in the field of bone densitometry is detection, prevention and treatment of osteoporosis. When choosing your level of sponsorship, here are the most current statistics regarding osteoporosis:

- Osteoporosis threatens more than 44 million Americans age 50 and older. It is estimated that 10 million individuals already have the disease and that nearly 34 million more have osteopenia (low bone mass), a condition that puts them at increased risk for osteoporosis.
- Eight out of 10 people affected by osteoporosis are women. Although the disease occurs in men, postmenopausal women are at the greatest risk.

Here is an excellent opportunity to increase your visibility in the bone densitometry market and showcase your support to the field by becoming a sponsor of the ISCD Annual Meeting.

See the various sponsorship opportunities available, beginning on page 3.

Corporate Sponsorship

The ISCD is an industry-neutral, international, non-profit organization dedicated to the promotion of quality skeletal assessment through standard setting, continuing education programs, densitometry certification for clinicians and technologists, increasing patient awareness and supporting clinical and scientific advances in the field.

The field of bone densitometry and the treatment and management of related disease states are constantly changing. ISCD recognizes and encourages our corporate partners to engage in a working relationship, one that will function as a forum for the exchange of information, by participating in the Corporate Advisory Council.

The goals of the Corporate Advisory Council are:

- Promote reciprocal access to the business, medical and scientific leadership of the respective organizations.
- Integrate industry trends and needs with strategic objectives of the ISCD.
- Foster partnerships and collaboration between the ISCD and industry, involving projects and services of common interest.
- Recognize the scientific and professional contributions of ISCD members who work in industry.
- Influence the direction and scope of the ISCD.

Recognition and access are two key benefits of corporate partnership.

With input from our corporate partners, we have redesigned our Corporate Partnership Program. The new program recognizes a company's year-round contributions—not just its participation in the Corporate Advisory Council and the Annual Meeting. Companies will be designated a level of sponsorship based upon their yearly participation. This new structure will help our corporate partners with their own annual planning, as well, by providing a much longer term view.

The Corporate Partnership Program has five components, each of which presents its own unique benefits:

- Corporate Membership
- Annual Meeting Opportunities
- Position Development Conference
- Educational Courses and Distance Learning Programs
- Publications: Web and Printed Materials

Participation in all programs will be calculated, and the corporate partner will be awarded the corresponding sponsorship level.

Corporate support of ISCD through this program will allow the organization to work toward the realization of its goals and, in turn, assist the corporate partners in achieving their goals.
